We are Sole Agents for

Wilcox & Gibbs

NEW AUTOMATIC Sewing Machines.

The manufacturers of this machine have sold their goods to no one in the islands excepting our firm. Parties representing that they have the Wilcox & Gibbs machine are trying to palm off on an unsuspecting public very inferior article which resembles the Automatic in every way but in being Automatic in action. The Wilcox & Gibbs is the only Automatic Sewing Machine in the world. So called Automatics sold by parties other than us or our agents are frauds. Do not let yourself be talked into buying a machine that is just the same as the Wilcox & Gibbs New Automatic, because it is cheaper.

POLITICS ON MAUI

Wilcox At Wailuku For Independents.

HE CALLS ALULI A DOG

Says Democrats are Led by a
"Malihini Named McClanahan"—Elections.

(Special Correspondence.)

WAILUKU, Maui, September 7.—Political affairs are decidedly queer and unsettled on Maui. Tuesday evening, Sept. 4th, Robert Wilcox spoke in Wailuku Skating Rink to several hundred people, including men, women, children, Japanese, Chinese-Independents, Republicans and Democrats. He seemed to gain but meager applause and was not by any means a favorite. His speech was moderate in tone but anti-missionary in tenor. He related his Washington experiences—and advocated home rule without alliance with either of the great parties. He however truly stated that the natives owed their present privilege of a full suffrage to a Republican President and a Republican legislature. This remark pleased some Wailuku people for certain leaders have been impressing the native voters with the idea that they owed the right of suffrage without the property qualification to Democratic votes in Congress. Mr. Wilcox advocated the selection of good natives for legislators irrespective of their knowledge of English. He stated that the legislature could make its own rules and could employ an interpreter if they wished. He seemed rather harsh on the Democrats fearing probably an alliance by the Independents with the Democrats. He stated that the latter in Hawaii were led by a malihini lawyer named McClanahan whose carpet-bag was still moist with the air of the sea. He also said that one Coast Democratic paper called Prince David a monkey. He stated that he cared to say nothing about the other candidates for delegate. He cared nothing about Samuel Parker, H. P. Baldwin, John Wise, J. O. Carter and others. He was only running and working for himself.

Another point he made for political effect was that if the Independents obtained a majority in the next legislature they could repeal many of the obnoxious laws inaugurated by the Dole regime. After Wilcox, Thomas Clark, the strongest and most influential politician among Wailuku Independents, arose and said that he agreed with Wilcox about the selection of good candidates for legislative honors but that he advised his party to cease trying to ride between two horses—one foot on one animal and the other foot on the other equine. It was better to ride on one horse and that horse was the Democratic one. Cleveland and Blount were good men and he advised the Independents to fuse with the Democratic party. Clark was greeted with much applause.

Clark was followed by John Ahuli—who has been named by the Independents as a legislative candidate. He stated that the natives had frequently followed Wilcox but never to success—and that they (the natives) were tired of failure. Ahuli advised his friends to have nothing to do with Wilcox. This made the latter angry and he arose and called Ahuli a little dog and made other disparaging remarks about him.

This mode of procedure will not help Wilcox for Ahuli is popular in Wailuku. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Aloha Aloha Society—of which Louis Kookoo is president and Manuel Ross secretary.

At the Republican primary election held in Wailuku Saturday, the 1st, the following delegates to district convention were elected: Messrs. A. N. Kepoikal, Geo. Hons and S. E. Kaleikau.

Saturday, the 1st, a Japanese employee of the Kahului R. R. Co. was killed at Wailuku. In attempting to get his hat which had blown off while he was riding on the train—he slid off between two cars and met instant death. The wheels of the second car cut completely through the center of his head.

S. R. Dowdle returned to Maui by the brig Lurline—12½ days from San Francisco. Mr. Dowdle will take charge of the Kaupakalua (Makawao) school—formerly taught by C. W. Baldwin who has become a normal instructor.

Saturday the Board of Registration registered 304 voters at Wailuku—the greatest number ever registered by a Maui board in one day. The board is at present in Hana where a large number is registering.

The new Spreckelsville ditch was formally inaugurated by the turning on of the water on the 6th. A luau was given at Spreckelsville and another at Kailua in celebration of the completion of the work. The feasts were given by the employees of Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Co.

This week at Pala a warehouse has been begun on the old site 200 feet long and 40 or 50 feet wide.

The Lahaina lagoon works has recently been purchased by Pioneer plantation. The plant will be moved to the mill and run by a gasoline engine.

The new long distance telephones put in by the Maui Telephone Co. are very powerful indeed.

On dit that Hon. Fred Hayselden of Lanai is a Democratic candidate for the Senate from Maui; that Messrs. H. P. Baldwin, A. N. Kepoikal, C. H. Dickey, J. M. Kaneakua and M. H. Reuter are mentioned as Republican candidates for the Senate; that T. B. Lyons, John Richardson and Pia Cockett are for Senators on the Independent platform; W. H. Cornwell will run as a Democrat for the Senate and Joel Nakaleka of Molokai as a Republican; that for representatives, J. Ahuli and S. E. Kaleikau are Independents, and Messrs. Geo. Hons and S. E. Kaleikau as Republicans are in the field. That Hon. Samuel Parker is the choice of Maui Republicans as a candidate for delegate.

GENERAL NEWS OF MAUI.

Wholesale and Retail Commission Store is Needed.

The following is from the Maui News:

Wanted, a wholesale and retail commission store. With the immense import and export retail trade on Maui, it is certainly somewhat singular that some enterprising man has not already seen and seized the opportunity offered for this line and business. There is a steady and increasing demand for goods which are not generally, and in some cases not at all, handled by Maui merchants, and this is the field to be occupied. Again, no one has made an organized and intelligent effort to handle the exports of Maui along the lines of garden and farm produce. This field cannot in the nature of things remain idle much longer, and while it will make money for the right man, it will also be the production of a great deal of home produce as soon as a market is brought to the door of the small farmer.

AN OLD-FASHIONED LUAU.

Labor Day was celebrated at Wailuku by an old-fashioned luau in Iao valley, with all the trimmings. Judge Kalua acted as master of the gastronomic features, Judge Kepoikal entertained distinguished visitors, and Hon. John Richardson of Lahaina acted as interpreter for some over inquisitive haoles during the singing of the hula mele. Mrs. James Campbell, who is visiting Wailuku as the guest of Mr. Theo. Clark, was the guest of honor on the occasion.

LAHAINA NOTES.

Lahaina, like Wailuku, is waking up from her Rip Van Winkle sleep. A number of new buildings, both residence and business, are completed, or nearly so. Politics is beginning to bubble, and Mayor Matt McCann is agitating the idea of uniting all the parties with the view of selecting the best men for office. Some say that Matt thinks that the best men are all Republicans. It is reported that the Maunaloa plantation will start up again this week, and that work will be pushed right along. The Lahaina railway from the old coconut grove mauka is making rapid progress. Messrs. Howell & Wilson are rushing things lively. Mr. Dowsett came up on the Claudine on his way to Lanai, probably to take charge of the ranch interests there. Mr. F. H. Hayselden will make his home in Lahaina, and after a trip abroad which he contemplates taking with his family, will make many improvements on his delightful beach-side home in Lahaina. Pioneer Plantation continues to grow in the direction of Olowalu and will eventually extend to and include that plantation. Then we can hope for the long talked of railroad from Wailuku to Lahaina.

STORM AT KULA.

On Friday and Saturday last week and Monday of this week, heavy and damaging storms prevailed in Kula. In many places the corn and potatoes were washed out of the ground and lodged in the Kula road in large quantities. Many Portuguese had built their pig pens in the beds of the gulches, and when the freshest came, it washed them away and drowned a large number of pigs. Mrs. Radal von Tempel had a corral of sixteen calves washed away in the same way, but all were saved except one.

SMALL ITEMS.

A meeting of the Kahului boating club was called for one day last week, but several who had expressed a desire to become members failed for some reason to attend, and the meeting was postponed. The matter is soon to be taken up and pushed to completion.

The following are those who have been naturalized in the Circuit Court at Wailuku so far: Dr. John Weddick, C. Christofferson, C. L. Hansen, H. A. Braek, H. Bethel, A. J. Rodriguez, J. H. Thomas, P. Popowski, Hans Amundson, A. do Rego. Several more have made application, whose cases have not yet been reached.

Mrs. G. D. Schrader, who has been to the Coast on a short visit, returned to Wailuku on the Mauna Loa on Wednesday, accompanied by her son, Mr. George Schrader.

Mr. C. B. Wells, manager of the Wailuku Sugar Co., leaves for the Coast via Honolulu on Monday.

Manager Gjerdrum has succeeded A. Onsted as a member of the Hana Road Board.

Judge Kalua goes to Molokai next week to hold a special term of Circuit Court. Mr. W. Q. Aiken has been inspecting the public lands of East Maui, in the interests of the government.

Mrs. W. A. McKay has been elected principal of the Wailuku Grammar school, to succeed Prof. John A. Moore.

Mr. A. R. McLane, brother of Mr. P. McLane of Lahaina, has accepted a position as assistant bookkeeper at Pala plantation.

No use looking for anything better than Jesse Moore "AA" Whiskey, for its better isn't made in either the new or the old world.

Great Progress OF THE Fisher's Pianos

From a small beginning the Fisher Piano has grown to be not only one of the best known pianos made, but its sale has reached a point where it is nearly double that of any piano manufactured in this or any other country. All this has been accomplished, practically speaking, within the past ten years. Not only this, but it has received the highest testimonials from many of the greatest vocalists and pianists that the world has ever produced. It is in daily use in leading schools and colleges everywhere, and has received highest rewards wherever publicly exhibited.—Chicago Indicator.
